SkyWays by Landscape Structures Inc. Earns Approved Fabricator Certificate from Clark County Nevada

Certification demonstrates commitment to top-quality manufacturing processes Delano, Minn. (Aug. 8, 2019) —SkyWays by Landscape Structures, a commercial shade and playground equipment manufacturing facility based in Dallas, Texas, has successfully completed Clark County Nevada’s rigorous audit for its Approved Fabricator Certificate. Clark County is an IAS accredited building department that is often accepted as the quality standard by architects, contractors and building officials throughout North America.

Earning this certification assures SkyWays customers that they are working with a manufacturing facility dedicated to providing the highest quality and most durable commercial shade structures and playground equipment.

“We are proud to have earned such a respected certification,” said Barrett Jenkins, general manager of SkyWays by Landscape Structures. “Passing the Clark County audit demonstrates our commitment to the continuous improvement of and compliance with top-quality manufacturing processes.”

In addition to the prestigious Clark County certification, the SkyWays manufacturing facility has recently earned the following:

- American Institute of Steel Construction (AISC) fabricator certification for steel building structures
- International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 9001-2015 certification for outstanding quality
